FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Kentek Launches Laser Smart® Services

Pittsfield, NH, September 1, 2012 - Kentek Corporation has acquired Laser-Professionals, Inc. (LPI), which has provided the most comprehensive and practical laser safety training and consulting services in the industry since 2004. The Kentek brand has long been known for quality and excellence in products and services. We now bring decades of additional experience building lasers, using lasers, and most importantly, teaching others how to use lasers safely.

This acquisition will allow even more laser professionals to take advantage of these services through the increased marketing, promotion and sales efforts of Kentek Corporation. Laser Smart Services include laser safety audits, laser safety training (including Laser Safety Officer), laser safety consulting, Virtual LSO, on-line training, and CDRH product certification.

“For eight years Laser-Professionals, Inc. has enjoyed a growing relationship with Kentek. We are excited to take the next step in seeing LPI become part of the Kentek family and together provide industry leading laser safety products and services,” said Pat Harris, former co-owner of LPI.
